

White Paper - Case Study # 150 - How the Franklin's paid their daughters 4 year university costs and

Even her 2 additional years to obtain her Master's Degree using "OPM" Other People's Money. Mr. & Mrs. J. Franklin of Washington D.C. USA, simply did not have the financial resources necessary to cover their daughter Jennifer's educational costs...until they found a resource that has resolved all their financial concerns. Enter the "Six Figure Club," with the education they received on how money really works... they were able to reallocate investments and dead equity assets into a quarterly income producing "Educational Fund" that covered nearly 100% of Jennifer's higher education costs. (The best part, this program did not cause any debt that Jennifer has hanging over her head for years of student loan payback obligations. This is because this income producing program is a "Self-Funding" payback program.)

The Franklin's filled out the  Total Needs Analysis form and found out where some of their assets could be re-allocated into cash generating vehicles and were able to cover the ongoing tuition costs on a quarterly basis. After the total educational expenses were paid in full, they simply continued to earn the same fixed MONTHLY ROI INCOME and paid off the resource they used to generate the needed positive cash-flow to resolve this debt without any worry, labor or risk!

One of the solution based programs identified was to have the Franklin's establish a simple interest only payback (HELOC) home equity line of credit. They had $300,000 of dead equity sitting in their mortgage company's coffers. (Where their mortgage banker re-invested their dead equity and actually earned over $100,000 in annual profits for the bank... and of-course paid the Franklin's - $0- for the "USE OF FUNDS.")

Enter the "Six Figure Club," we confirmed that when they secured the funds using the (HELOC) the cost of those funds would be between 2% and 3%, so we used 2.5% as the loan interest rate (to borrow your own money...isn't that ironic?) Normally in nearly all cases these funds were considered tax-deductible expenses so a write-off would be a small benefit.

The "Six Figure Club" (HYRPIP) high yield return passive income programs used here, re-allocated the $300,000 at a tax deductible annual cost of 2.5% X $300,000 = $7,500 (loan interest.) The program selected earned a projected fixed monthly interest rate of 2.5% (monthly which over 12 months created a 30% annual ROI. Jennifer received $22,500 quarterly. Her true costs were about $10,000 so the balance of the funds ($12,500) was returned to her parents who applied it back to the loan repayment and covered the whole year's loan interest payment from the earning generated in less than three months.

Note: In less than three years the entire (HELOC) was Paid In Full and The Franklin's plan on doing this again to cover their son Jason's educational costs as well! So that's one way to use OPM....
